

Spring Term Will Feature College Revue

Revue Will Feature Original Music, Lyrics, and Stories Written by Students.

An All-College musical revue featuring original music, lyrics, and an original story written by students on the campus, will be presented during the Spring Quarter, according to an announcement coming from the office of Robert L. Main, college dramatics director, this week. A date for the presentation will be set later on.

The production will be placed in charge of Mr. Main, of the College speech department, but students will handle the production themselves, under his direction. Mr. Main, who joined the faculty at the beginning of the year, is an instructor in play production, and is well qualified to advise and assist the students in bringing out the revue. A number of students are now at work on final plans for the production, which will go into rehearsal as soon as auditions and try-outs for the various parts have been completed.

Several new compositions written by students on the campus will be featured in the production, which will, if possible, use only original material which these students have composed. Standard music, with the possible exception of any classical music which might be used, cannot be included in the production, on account of the ASCAP ban on the use by amateur and professional theatrical groups, as well as radio broadcasters, of music composed by members of the ASCAP. Consequently, all music in the popular field will be composed by students attending the College.

A number of interesting compositions have already come to light, with the recent discovery of the hidden talents of several musically inclined students on the campus. Wilma Adams, along with others in the group which is working on the revue, is working on a number of compositions. Charlene Barnes, a junior, and Dorothy Steeby, a sophomore, have also written a number of original compositions which will be included in the revue. Other compositions, in swing time, will be contributed by Warren Durett, College dance band pianist and arranger.

The revue will be built along the lines of a three-act musical comedy based on an original story which was written by a sophomore student, Robert Flowers of Hopkins. Final preparation of the script was completed this week.

Auditions and try-outs for parts in the revue will be held during the first week of the Spring Quarter. Numerous soloists, both male and female, a chorus, and others, will be needed to fill out the cast for the revue. There will also be a need for student assistants to help out on the staging, lighting, and other incidents which are vital to the production.

Students interested in any phase of dramatics or in taking part in the production are cordially invited to drop into the dramatic office for possible assignments, or a spot in which they may help with the show.

128th Field Artillery Asks for Library Books

The Maryville boys in Battery C, 128th Field Artillery regiment in South Carolina, like other soldiers, like to read. Their first choice is the home town newspaper, next books and magazines; but they do not have a sufficient supply of books.

In a letter received by the editor of the Northwest Missourian, Captain Roy Reynolds says: "I wonder if your newspaper would be interested in helping us have friends' back home give us books for our library. I wonder if we could contact some organization in Maryville to help us keep the program of 'Books For Maryville Boys' going? Any suggestions would be most welcome."

Captain Reynolds is trying to start a regimental library which the Maryville boys and the regiment as a whole can not only enjoy there but keep with them at any station. Captain Reynolds asks that any persons having books, and who cares to send them to the 128th Field Artillery regiment to do so. These books will be greatly appreciated by the members of the National Guard.

Neil Judah of Pickering was a visitor in the Phil Sig House February 2. He was a student in the College during the fall quarter.

Don Lyman spent the week-end at his home in Corning, Iowa.

Living alumni of Dartmouth totaled 19,500 at the last count.

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute is planning to build an astronomical observatory.

Barkatze Nominates Ten for Title, Pep King and Queen

Genella Pemberton, Helen Adams, Ruthie Kelly, Dorothy Weems, and Susan Foley are the candidates for the title Queen of Pep; and Joe Kurtright, Bob Eisminger, John Yeaman, Jack Salmon, and Art Schmagel are campaigning for the position, King of Pep. The Rulers of Pep will be chosen by those in attendance at the Barkatze Dance on February 14.

The candidates were selected by a nominating committee composed of Emma Isabel Brown, representative of the W. A. A.; Don Paxson, of the "M" Club; Whifflet Caton, of the Green and White Peppers; and Marie Amott, of the Barkatze. The band did not use its privilege to have a representative in the nominating committee.

Jack Garrett, vice-president of the Barkatze, acted as chairman at the meeting.

Miss DeLuce Tells Art Club of Chicago Meeting

At the Art Club meeting held February 3, Aurora Bruce, Leland Hamilton, and Jane Warren were appointed to serve on the program committee, with Edwin Patton, chairman.

Miss Olive DeLuce, sponsor of the club and chairman of the Fine Arts department, told the club of her recent trip to an art meeting in Chicago. Sketching concluded the activities of the meeting.

Center to Have Music Machine by Next Week

Six Card Decks and One Dozen Ping-pong Paddles Ready for Use.

Bob Turner, president of the Student Senate said this week that hosts and hostesses will start to work in the Student Center as soon as the Industrial Arts Department finishes the table now under construction.

Miss Lippitt reported to Bob Turner that already six decks of playing cards had been contributed to the Student Center. Mr. Rickenbrode has told the Student Senate that he has a large, sturdy, oak table that would be very useful in the Center rooms. He will sell this table to the Senate for five dollars. Mr. Turner reported to the Senate that he had already bought twelve paddles and twelve balls for the ping-pong games in the Student Center.

Furniture to Cost $309.00
Mr. Turner says it is expected to furnish the Center with two ping-pong tables. These two tables will cost about twenty-four dollars. In addition, two settees (that will cost about one hundred dollars each) are needed for the lounge. Mr. Turner estimates that a desk for the host or hostess will cost about thirty dollars. Four card tables will cost about fifty dollars. And the five dollars for the table to be purchased from the Rickenbrodes will make a total of three hundred and nine dollars.

The Student Senate members agreed that they should not waste money on cheap furnishing that would be worthless after a year's service.

A music box will probably be put in the Center by a company from Kansas. The understanding that Mr. Turner got from the man representing the company was this: the Student Center would receive forty to fifty per cent of the receipts. The representative said that he would change records each week.

Debating Team to Go on Extensive Week-End Tour

The two debate teams from the College will take an outing from classes this week-end, when they will see parts of Nebraska and Iowa on a debate tour. They will leave early Friday morning in private cars and will travel to Nebraska Wesleyan College, at Lincoln, Nebraska, where they will have a debate with the Wesleyan College Friday morning.

A double debate will take place in the afternoon at the University of Omaha. This makes it possible for each team to debate both sides of the question. Friday evening the teams will travel to Creighton University, in Omaha, for a wrangle with the debaters there.

The group will spend the night at the Legis Hotel in Omaha, and Saturday morning will travel to Fremont, Nebraska, where they will debate Midland College. The afternoon will be spent debating the Nebraska State Teachers College team at Wayne, Nebraska. On Saturday morning will travel to Saturday night the teams will debate with the Morningside College team of Sioux City, Iowa.

The debate group will return to Maryville Sunday. Altogether there are to be 14 debates.

College Greeted Pioneers of Music World

Famous Duo-Pianists to Present Major Entertainment at College

Jacques Fray and Mario Braggiotti, who will appear February 10, at 8:15 o'clock at the College Auditorium, are unique and dramatic figures in the history of duopianism. Eleven years ago they met, merged their pianos, and embarked on a career that ever since has held the limelight by virtue of repeated concert-tours in Europe and America, and many years of starring on the radio networks.

The general admission is one dollar. Reserved seats may be secured at Kuchs Brothers Jewelry Store on Main Street for 25 cents extra for a seat in the nine front center rows or 10 cents extra for a seat elsewhere. Students will be admitted on their activity tickets. They may have reserved seats by going to Kuchs Brothers and paying 10 or 25 cents.

Jacques owns an unusual instrument: a double keyboard piano, the only one in the country. His pentapiano house is furnished in Mexican style from the spoils of concert-tours in that area.

The world recognizes Jacques Fray and Mario Braggiotti as concert-artists of the first order, and they live up glowingly to their reputation.

They are today the only duopianists on the concert-stage to perform nothing but their own original transcriptions. It is their aim, by transcribing new material yearly, to greatly enlarge the very limited library of two-piano music, and it is their contention that no music, choral, orchestral, or operatic, is too intricate for twenty fingers to perform, thereby bringing to recital audiences great music that they might otherwise be able rarely to enjoy. In line with their interest in performing all types of music is their extraordinary versatility in the varied program they will play here.

Some time ago, Deems Taylor, introducing the duo-pianists on one of their radio guest-appearances, said: "How many people meet and shake hands, part, and never see each other again. What a loss it would have been to the world if Mario and Jacques had merely shaken hands, not joined them."

Perhaps it is because their pianos were introduced before they were that the meeting resulted in a lasting partnership. The meeting took place in a music store in Paris. Fray was playing a current Gershwin hit in one studio, Braggiotti, in another studio, interpolated fragments from the "Rhapsody in Blue" into Fray's playing. Both suddenly aware of the excellent contrapuntal effect, left their studios to congratulate each other, met midway in the hall, shook hands, and so began the partnership that has won fame throughout the world.

Although Fray and Braggiotti

Fray and Braggiotti, eminent duo-piano team, will appear in the College Auditorium, February 10. Tireless pioneers in their work, they were the first to give popular music the significance of a concert-hall performance. Because their material is unique their versatility extreme, their approach to music both academic and progressive, they are recognized among the widely varying audiences of two continents as the last word in concert presentation.

were both students of the French Conservatory of Music, and had a strict background of classical training, they were sincere admirers of the revolutionary composers, among them, George Gershwin. It was significant that their meeting should have revolved around a Gershwin (Continued on Page Two)

Twelve Seniors Apply for B. S. Degrees This Quarter

Twelve seniors in the College are applicants for the Bachelor of Science degree at the end of the Winter Quarter. They are: Junetta Barnhouse, Hatfield, home economics and general science; Crystal Cooper Hoover, Sheridan, home economics and fine arts; Burton Dunbar, St. Joseph, social science and music; Paul Eugene Fields, Maryville, social science and speech; Katherine Lee Gray, Clearmont, English and music; William Hindman, Fairfax, commerce and mathematics; Florence McEvo, Eldora, Iowa, elementary education; William McMullin, Maryville, social science and physical education; Mary Catherine Needles, Parnell, commerce and music; Eula Bowen Rouse, Walnut, Iowa, home economics and social science; Margaret Stafford, Tarkio, home economics, Fine Arts, and social science; Hope Wray, Maryville, commerce and English.

Senior Assembly Mirrors Faculty

"If you could see yourself as others see you." Advertisers have often appealed to personal vanity by use of this phrase. But according to the faculty, it was the Senior class and not advertisers who reached into its repertoire and put the thought into an enjoyable quantity of mimicry of said faculty in Wednesday's assembly. No doubt everyone has at one time or another mused upon the effect of seeing his own image in action, but the faculty probably never surmised that the Seniors were about to bring their musings into light for them as they sat awaiting the opening of the assembly program.

The program proved that over a period of years the present Seniors have been an observing and scrutinizing group. The characterizations were precise and vivid in their portrayal of faculty members. An onlooker might have mistaken the actors for the real individual had it not been for slight physical and vocal distinctions.

In a continuity of musical scores ranging from "The Little Red Fox" to "My Old Kentucky Home" a dozen entertaining scenes revealed unto the faculty the small and large traits and attitudes with which the students identify them. Needless to say, the audience appreciated the program immensely. Some students contended that in instances the acting was so good that even the real individual could not have done better.

Ralph Remy, a senior of the Class of 1941, reminiscing several years later through his Tower, the College yearbook, focused his eyes upon pictures of the faculty, and one by one thought of them as the scenes were cleverly enacted. Those characters impersonated and Seniors who played the role

Entertain for Upperclassmen Tuesday Night

Faculty Will Be Hosts to Upperclass Students at Residence Hall.

Upperclass students are to be guests of the faculty Tuesday evening, February 11, at Residence Hall between the hours of eight and ten. This formal party is the annual reception to members of the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes of the College. The invitation to them was extended Wednesday at the Assembly.

The date was chosen by the Student Affairs Committee on which the following faculty members serve: Miss Marian B. Lippitt, chairman; Dr. J. W. Hake, Miss Miriam Waggoner, Mr. J. Norvel Saylor, Miss Jacinta Kampmeier, and Mr. Wilbur Stalcup. This committee is also responsible for working out the big plans for the party, details of which are handled by other committees.

The receiving line will be composed of the following people: President and Mrs. Uel W. Lamkin, Dean and Mrs. J. W. Jones, Miss Marian B. Lippitt, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Stalcup. The honor guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stapleton and Dr. and Mrs. Jesse Miller.

The chairmen of the various committees will be: Dr. J. W. Hake, Dr. Blanche H. Dow, Dr. Carol Y. Mason, Miss Chloe E. Millikan, Mr. Norvel Saylor, Miss Ruth Villars, Mrs. J. W. Hake, and Dr. Reven S. DeJarnette.

Mrs. Reven S. DeJarnette and Mrs. Robert Main will pour the first hour, and Mrs. R. T. Hubble and Mrs. Lon Wilson, the second hour.

All students who can be expected to come dressed in formal clothes. If this is impractical, it will be perfectly correct to come dressed in "Sunday" clothes. Usually the crowd is about equally divided as to afternoon clothes and evening clothes. Women students who come in short dresses are expected to keep on their heels and carry their gloves and purses.

To facilitate the handling of the large crowd those students whose names begin with letters from A to M are asked to come from 8 until 9 and those with initials from M to Z to come from 9 until 10. This is not a requirement, however, and convenience should determine the time of attendance if the stated time is not convenient.

All of the students who are members of the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes are urged to come to the reception. This is one of the attractive social affairs of the school year and is especially in honor of those classes mentioned.

Food Buying Class Takes Field Trip to Kansas City

The Foods Buying class of the Home Economics department, with its instructor, Miss Eileen Elliott, chartered the College bus for a field trip to Kansas City today. The group left early this morning planning to reach Kansas City by 7:30 or 8:00 o'clock.

Included in the day's activities was a tour of the Missouri Produce Terminal Market with Sally Adams, the food marketing commentator of WHB broadcasting station. Following the tour the girls were guests of Miss Adams at her 8:30 broadcast.

A trip through Swift's Kansas City plant and Wolfman's kitchen, bakery, and candy kitchen was expected to complete this morning's activities.

The group is to have lunch in the Tiffin room at Wolfman's at noon. A visit to the U. S. Cold Storage Plant followed by either the movies or shopping will complete the trip. Twenty-five persons are making the trip. They expect to return to Maryville in time for the Maryville-Warrensburg game tonight.

Miss Hensley Speaks to Home Economics Club

Miss Jessie Lee Hensley, Nodaway County Home Demonstration Agent, was the guest speaker at the Home Economics club meeting held Monday night at the Home Management House. Miss Hensley held an informal discussion of the work of the home demonstration agent.

Preceding the discussion a short business meeting was held. Following it games and contests were participated in by those present. Refreshments of popcorn and apples were served.

Winifred Lightle was in charge of the meeting. She was assisted by Marceline Wiley.

Marlene Osborne of Orwig has returned to school after being confined to her home for a week with influenza.

Social Committee Sponsor Pep Rally Dancette Today

The pep rally-dancette will take place tonight from 4:00 until 6:00 under the sponsorship of the student Social Committee. The pep rally will be before the dance in the Old West Library. All faculty members and students are invited to attend the dancette at which the College dance band will furnish the music. Miss Marjory Elliott and Miss Inez Lewis are the chaperones.

The temporary chairman of the Social Committee, Ralph Remy, is chairman of arrangements in the absence of Mary Louise Karns, who has fractured her knee.

O'Neillians Will Present 'Admiral Tilly' in Assembly

Members of the O'Neillians, a dramatic club of the College, have been working on a play to be presented before the student body. The play, a one act comedy, is to be presented at the College assembly at 10:00 o'clock on February 12. It is entitled "Admiral Tilly", and is being directed by Mr. Robert Main, of the Dramatics department.

The play is a rollicking comedy about two old retired sea captains having difficulty keeping their cook, who is a very erratic old maid. The cast of characters acting in the play is:

Captain Thor Dickman—Wallace Oursler
Captain Edgar Solomon—Joe Kurtright
Tilly, the old maid cook—Hattie Houpp.

Biology Teacher Speaks to Forum

"What is a snake?" asked Mr. W. T. Garrett, chairman of the Biology department at the College, as he began his talk to the Monday Forum Club at the noon meeting held in the Methodist church on January 27. His topic was "Snakes".

He said, "A snake is a specialized, rather than degenerate, reptile, offshoot of the saurapod dinosaurs and directly related to the lizards whose ancestors probably gave rise not only to lizards of the modern day but to snakes."

Mr. Garrett went on to tell of the various ways in which snakes are useful to man. In mentioning the value of snakes in the destruction of harmful insects and rodents he said, "Some of us know of the destructive effect of gophers in fields. It is estimated that one bull snake to each one and one-half acre would do the job for us in a fine way."

Snakes are useful in other ways, he said. A whole series of studies are now in progress in regard to the treatment of such ailments as epilepsy, cancer, excessive bleeding, asthma, chorea, arthritis and other diseases with derivatives of venom. "Reptile skins for use as leather have also proved too useful for the benefit of the snakes," the speaker added.

In regard to size of snakes Mr. Garrett said that the largest on record was a Reticulated Python which reached the length of thirty-two feet and the smallest on record was a worm snake which was only four inches long at maturity.

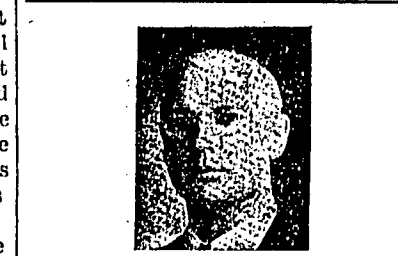

"Snakes have various equipment for sensing their environment. The tongue is a very important organ of sense," Mr. Garrett said, "Snakes also are able to adjust their eyes for near and far vision."

The speaker pointed out that in spite of the Biblical statement "and eat dust" all snakes are carnivores. They are of three general types in regard to their food. They are (1) insect eaters, (2) rodent and bird eaters, and (3) fish and amphibian eaters. The following statement was made by Mr. Garrett relative to a snake's appetite: "An 11.25 ounce water snake swallowed a 3 ounce bull frog in 15.5 minutes. This would be equivalent to a heavyweight prize-fighter eating 55 pounds of meat at one sitting."

Mr. Garrett gave a few helpful pointers on taking snakes. He said, "A great deal depends on the person's attitude who catches the snake. If it is one of fear, then reactions are such that the snake is excited and may cause considerable difficulty. If one controls his actions, is gentle and firm, showing the animal no harm for a few minutes it will soon become calm and cease its struggling. This is aided by immediately getting the captive into a sack."

In conclusion, Mr. Garrett said, "I have had considerable satisfaction with the small emphasis we have placed on the appreciation, study, and conservation of snakes in the last few years. People in general, and especially young people, rapidly learn tolerance, understanding, and interest in these very strange animals."

'Persistence of Shinto in Modern Times' Is Title of Third Lecture

Dr. Dow to Give Second February Lecture Sunday

"Poets Are Storytellers" is the subject of the second February lecture, which Dr. Blanche H. Dow will give on Sunday afternoon, February 9, at 4:00 o'clock. The lecture, which is to be given in Horace Mann Auditorium is open to all interested persons.

Dr. Dow has chosen poetry as her subject because she feels that there is an increasing interest in that means of expression. Poetry is an expression of thoughts, of what someone wants to say. It is stated in as brief, interesting, and provocative a way as the poet is capable of conceiving.

Dr. Dow is confident that it is possible to enjoy any poetry, if one can see from the point of view of the poet; and to understand the varied work of poets is a test of one's versatility, even as is to enjoy varied types of friends, games, or work.

'Y's' Bring Recreation Leader to Local Campus

Lynn Rohrbough, recreation explorer of the Co-operative Recreation Service, Delaware, Ohio, spent Thursday, February 6 on the Campus instructing groups in the art and technique of folk games and recreation.

Mr. Rohrbough came here as a guest of the Y groups. He appeared before several of the women's physical education classes, and at 4:00 he held a class in the Old West Library for all who were interested in learning to teach folk games. He was in charge of a Y Folk Dancing party in the Old West Library at 7:00.

The folk games and dances are those which were played and enjoyed by the early settlers of the United States. Many of them were traditional at the time of the earliest colonization in America, others were originated to satisfy a need of recreation of the pioneers.

Those who participated in the games found that there was as much activity and ingenuity required as in the modern art of jiggerbugging.

Mrs. Kaiser to Speak to International Fellowship

The annual International Fellowship banquet will be given at 6:30 o'clock Monday, February 17, at the Methodist church.

Mrs. Margaret Kaiser, from the International Relations Bureau, is to be the featured speaker. She will also speak at a College assembly at 10:00 Monday, February 17.

Mrs. Kaiser has spent a great deal of time in Europe. She was there when the present war began, and remained for some months after that; therefore she has much first hand information on the situation there.

The banquet is sponsored by the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. and the International Relations Club. Tickets at 40 cents each will be on sale in the hall on the second floor of the administration building all next week.

Woodwind Music Class Is Giving Demonstrations

The woodwind ensemble music class, taught by Mr. Geiger is now presenting a series of demonstrations on the various woodwind instruments.

Each student prepares a typical situation in which he or she is to give a demonstration before a group. This may include such groups as a Parent Teacher's meeting, a school assembly, a school board, or any group to which a music teacher might be called upon to present a program showing the value of music in the schools.

Each demonstration by the students will include selections for and a brief description and working knowledge of the flute, piccolo, oboe, bassoon, and the clarinet.

Mr. Geiger extends an invitation to college students to attend the demonstrations, which are held daily except Wednesday from 3 to 4 o'clock in room 205.

Antelope milk is of better quality than cow's milk, according to Dr. J. B. Haug, agricultural chemist at Oregon State college.

Dr. Dildine Says That the State Religion Affects Japan's Government.

Lived 19 Years in China

Dr. Dildine of Social Science Department Will Bring in Relationships of World Affairs.

Dr. Harry G. Dildine of the Social Science department, speaking on "The Persistence of Shinto in Modern Times," will be the third lecturer in the series of February lectures. He will speak in the auditorium of the Horace Mann Laboratory School, Sunday afternoon, February 16, at 4 o'clock.

Dr. Dildine, having lived in China for 19 years, is especially well qualified to speak on Eastern religion. He is conversant, too, with world affairs so that he brings a breadth of vision to his subject.

Commenting on his lecture topic, Dr. Dildine, in an interview with a Missourian reporter, made the following observations:

Japan is coming to be a very much larger factor in the politics of the world and it seems to be rather commonly understood that the state religion of Japan is having a great deal to do with attitudes which support the current progress of the Japanese government.

As one becomes more familiar with the forms and ideas which belong to that religion he is surprised at the condemnation of that particular kind of a faith in modern times. He soon discovers in the materials at hand, both the fact that Shinto is the actual faith of Japan in this present day and that, outdated as it seems to be, there are still a number of reasons why the mind of Japan in this generation still accepts so assumed a faith.

Perhaps chief among these considerations is the one that links Shinto ideas and ceremonies so very closely with the imperial family and the program of imperial expansion. A large part of the western world's interest lies in its attempting to make an estimate of the probable outcome of this union of political and religious interests as they bear upon these two questions: First, will the mood of the Japanese lead to open conflict with the United States and the defenders of democracy in Europe? Second, what will be the result on the side of culture when this alliance of state and Shinto faith works out its final adjustments with reference to the efforts of western Christianity to influence the life of Japan?

It does not seem probable at the present moment that the articles appearing in the American press expressing pessimism in regard to the religious outlook are justified. There is hardly an issue of the religious magazine of the American press within the last six months which does not have notices and discussions bearing on the subject of this paper. Likewise, the daily secular press has almost uninterrupted reference to the stage of development concerning which this paper makes inquiry.

Senior Assists in Judging
Edwin Patton, senior in the College; William Burr, County Superintendent of Schools; and Reverend W. S. Insley, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Maryville acted as judges for a high school oratorical contest in Stanberry, Thursday, January 30. "The Constitution of the United States" was the subject for the contest which was held under the auspices of the American Legion.

Students who spent the week-end at their homes in St. Joseph were: Ruth Miller, Ruth Kelly, Betty Smalley, Burton Dunbar, Dora Miller, and Helen Matbars.

Zoe Lightfoot spent last week-end with her parents in Farragut, Iowa.

LISTENING IN COMFORT
How fine it is to sit in comfort and listen to a stimulating lecture! No straining to hear, no appearance of effort on the part of the speaker to make his audience hear, no squirming because of uncomfortable seats! Such were the thoughts of one who had the delightful experience of attending the first of the February lectures to be held in the auditorium of the new Horace Mann Laboratory School.
The College may well congratulate itself upon having this very fine room for such events as the February lectures. The beauty of the room, with its new and pleasing curtains, adds to the enjoyment of any program. The room is large enough to seat the select group interested in such intellectual discussions as the February lectures afford, yet small enough to add a certain sense of intimacy between speaker and audience.

Embarrassing Moment
(Note: Russell Dowell, a graduate of the College in the class of 1939, is the subject of the following story taken from the Cameron Sun, Thursday, January 30, 1941.
Russell Dowell, Cameron high school basketball coach, is a firm believer in rigid and prescribed training for his basketball squad members. He makes it his business to see that the boys keep training rules as religiously as they accept his coaching practice.
Perhaps that is the reason the Dragon court team is showing such obvious improvement as the season progresses. Certainly Dowell's habit of checking up on squad members was the reason for an embarrassing moment last week.
D. M. Skidmore, one of the two basket-scoring aces, had been bothered with a sore throat. Coach Dowell instructed Skidmore to take good care of his throat, and to get to bed no later than 8 o'clock.
That evening, about 7:30 o'clock, Coach Dowell called the Skidmore residence. The voice which answered him sounded familiar, so Dowell said, "How's your throat?"
"Oh," the voice answered, "I guess it's all right."
"Not sore?" Dowell asked.
"No, I guess not," said the voice.
"Well, that's fine. I just called up to see how you are"—and here the coach was emphatic—"and to tell you to be sure to get to bed by 8 o'clock."
"I'll be darned if I'll go to bed at 8 o'clock!" The voice was more emphatic than the coach's.
"You'll not—why?" He didn't quite know how to deal with such unprecedented unheralded insubordination.
"Heh, heh!" the voice laughed over the telephone.
"Say," Dowell said, struck by a sudden horrible suspicion, "Say, is this D?"
"No," the voice chuckled, "this is D's dad."

Pros and cons were discussed on matters grave and less grave. Harold Hull, president of the Senior Class, read to the faculty a poem from the class written by Jesse Lundy solving the wounds of vanity and tendering a feeling of gratitude and appreciation for the kind and patient help given by the faculty during four years in college.
Other numbers on the program included devotions by Robert Turner; a piano solo by Thelma Coffman; a vocal solo by Rosa Lee Roark with Mary Virginia Beck, accompanist; and a trumpet solo by Don Moyer with Mildred Niccum as accompanist. Miss Beck also played the scores for the impersonations.

Needing Music on College Campus, Students Try Hands at Composing
Most of the students in the College know that there is plenty of good musical talent available in the student body, but how many are aware that there are several budding young composers here, who have already composed a number of popular and semi-classical compositions which have real possibilities? Three College co-eds, and one young man whose interest lies in arrangements as well as in originating compositions, have composed several numbers of which they may well be proud. Wilma Adams of Hatfield, Charlene Barnes of Tarkio, Dorothy Steeby of Amity, and Warren Durett, a pianist with the College dance band, have all been active in musical composition for some time, but it was only recently that their hidden talents came to light.
Wilma Adams, a sophomore in the College, has written several "sweet" tunes of promise, and, also, a pleasing tango that has attracted attention from members of the music faculty and others who have heard it. At the present time, she, along with others in the group, is working on a number of other new compositions.
Charlene Barnes, a junior, has written several popular songs and a semi-classical tune which will probably be arranged for group singing and will be presented to the student body for consideration at some time in the not too distant future. A few titles chosen at random would include a popular ballad entitled "I Had Never Been Thrilled" and "Serenade of Love." The latter composition is a serenade that might well be adapted for group singing.
Dorothy Steeby, a sophomore, has written, among other compositions, a popular ballad called "You've Changed, Madame" and another interesting composition entitled, "Rhumba of My Heart." Still another of her compositions is "After the Storm," a popular ballad which she composed some time ago.
Warren Durett, who is the arranger for the College dance band, is primarily interested in making good arrangements of popular songs, but he has also written some original music which includes two swing tunes, both of which have plenty of good dance rhythm.
It is hoped that he, and the others who have original compositions at hand, may be persuaded to permit the new compositions to be presented to the student body for their consideration. With talent like this on the campus, there is no reason why it should not be made available for the enjoyment of all who love music.

The Stroller...
The days of chivalry are not yet past. The Stroller saw Godfrey Hochbaum and two young ladies approaching a muddy crossing. After sizing up the mud puddle, Godfrey picked up one of the ladies, carried her across, and returned for the other. Evidently Godfrey didn't want to get his coat muddy.
The Saturday night dorm dance was a pretty nice affair until it was announced that Maryville had lost the ball game. Even the Stroller was down.
The dance band had to tell Mr. John Geiger that Frenesi is not the name of a girl before he would settle down to business at a recent dance.
The Stroller understands that the St. Louis Cardinal chain system is in hot water since Jean Zimmerman has so ably taken over the control of its star hurler.
Somebody told the Stroller that Priscilla Ann Peagans was making a collection of Tower business managers, but he heard later that it was just a friendly business deal.
Maurice Cook has been complaining to the Stroller that a fellow can't even have a date unless he has all his lessons. It was rumored that he had to have all his speeches written before Mary Lou would consent.

Dr. Hake Says, Discoveries of Science Have Made Possible Modern Civilization
Cosmic Rays Are Thought to Consist of Swiftly Moving Particles and Electromagnetic Waves. Future Will Tell if Man Can Use These Rays.
The first of the February lectures was delivered in the Horace Mann auditorium Sunday afternoon by Dr. J. W. Hake, who gave a paper on cosmic rays. The lecture was well-attended.
Dr. Hake indicated that the answer to the question, "Of what use are cosmic rays?" could best be answered by calling upon the past. The same question has been asked of the scientists of previous centuries.
These scientists, as the laymen would have it, the speaker said, played with absurd toys and invented crack-pot theories. However, the resulting discoveries made possible the industrial revolution and modern civilization rests fundamentally upon the principles brought to light through studying those "absurd toys" and "crack-pot" theories. Scientists receive little material pay for their work but "they live not by bread alone."
To give an understanding and appreciation of cosmic rays, Dr. Hake gave a summary of what went on in the scientific world before the twentieth century. To quote him, "The gradual revelation of the secrets of nature which finally led to the discovery of cosmic rays is one of the most beautiful examples of the scientific method in the whole field of science. By careful examination, selection, and rejection of the building blocks, a magnificent structure was erected. On this structure cosmic rays form a spire which pierces not only the clouds but reaches even into the vast unknown."
"There exists, in science, a nucleus of established knowledge to which all sane scientists subscribe. Surrounding this nucleus there exists a nebulous something and beyond that, the vast unknown. It is in this nebulous realm that the speculations and controversies take place. It is into this region that the scientist has been led by the exploration of cosmic rays. Slowly but gradually some of this nebulous material is being transformed into solid and irrefutable knowledge. It is to this end that cosmic rays are rendering a valuable service."
There follows a brief statement of some of the points brought out by Dr. Hake:
In the seventeenth century Sir Isaac Newton championed the corpuscular theory of radiation and Christian Huygens the wave theory. Within a century the greater number of scientists favored the wave theory. As they could not conceive of a wave motion passing through space without a medium in which to travel, the term ether was invented.
Bradley demonstrated that the ether did not drift with the earth, and later Michelson and Morely showed that the ether did not drift through the ether. This placed the advocates of the ether theory in a dilemma. Einstein came to the rescue with his relativity theory and, with an extension of Planck's Quantum Theory to all electromagnetic radiation.
Maxwell worked out the theory of electromagnetic waves on a purely mathematical basis, and it was found that the velocity he obtained was that of light. This led to the belief that radiation was electromagnetic. This was the foundation for wireless telegraphy and radio.
X-rays and rays from radioactive materials are found to ionize gases. However, gases are found to be ionized when the possibilities of ionization by these agents are removed. This ionization is attributed to cosmic rays. Cosmic rays are thought to consist of swiftly moving particles and electromagnetic waves, the electromagnetic waves being much shorter and more penetrating than any previously known.
The ionizing effect of cosmic rays is more intense at high altitudes. The cosmic rays are therefore thought to come from outer space. The ionizing effect varies with the latitude.
Cosmic rays are thought to cause the Aurora Borealis and are also connected with sun spots.
Whether or not man will learn to use the tremendous energy in the cosmic ray photon for his comfort and convenience is a question that future generations will have to answer, was the conclusion the speaker left with his audience.

As the guests came into the Hall, they passed through a large lattice work heart, decorated with vines with heart-shaped leaves climbing through the lattice work. The heart was complete with a large red ruffle along the outer edge.

Around the pillars were wound red crepe paper streamers which formed diamond-shaped squares. In each square were large red hearts. The curtains were gracefully arranged in the shape of hearts with red paper hearts placed upon them.

The main feature of the decorations was a huge Valentine placed over the fireplace which placed a spotlight was centered. A Cupid who surveyed the dancers, dancing to the music of the Tivoli Ambassadors, formed the center of the Valentine. To add further to the atmosphere, red lights were used and the ceiling was lowered by red and white crepe paper streamers.

Alabama College Forms Unusual Campus Sorority

Montevallo, Ala.—(ACP)—One of the most unusual all-girl groups ever formed on a college campus, the Hi Kappa sorority for tall girls only, is enlivening Alabama State College for Women.

The sorority, which welcomes girls who are 68 inches or taller, has some charter members, who are six feet in height—but none taller as yet.

At first the sorority planned to elect the tallest girl president each year by acclamation, but soberer "democratic instincts" prevailed and now officers are chosen in the traditional voting manner.

Members must pledge themselves to call other girls on the campus who are not 68 inches tall "shrimps."

New Wilmington, Pa.—(ACP)—Women should select becoming colors and not colors to fit the current styles, according to a Westminster college art professor.

Don't fail to look at the color of a street dress by daylight before buying it.

Don't wear bright colors in large masses; wear them as you would a bracelet or a handkerchief.

Don't ask your girl friend about your clothes unless you're sure she will be frank with you.

Don't forget that texture is as important as color in determining the kind of clothes that look well on you.

Western Hemisphere Union Is Debaters' Topic

The International Relations Club was honored last Tuesday at its meeting by having the members of the College Debate Club argue the proposition "Resolved that the Nations of the Western Hemisphere Should form a Permanent Union."

Those presenting the affirmative view were Frank Biles and Frank Ewing. The negative side was represented by Walter Burke and Hershel Bryant.

The affirmative side maintained that the twenty-one republics and Canada should form a permanent union because of the strength therein. They planned to carry this out in general by hemispherical education, allowing these nations to establish a common cultural ground, and specifically by setting up three assemblies: military, economic, and national. Each nation would be represented in these assemblies.

The negative views were: That it is impossible to bring all of the nations together on an educational basis; that Canada will not join such a union because of her sympathies toward Britain; that Cuba and Argentina hold United States policies in contempt; that the South American Republics would be afraid that the United States would hold the whip hand in all issues; that there was really no political invader of the Americas right now and hence no need for a union; that the South American Republics see no value in a union because they are sure that in case of aggression, United States would be forced to give them protection in order to protect her own interests.

No decision was rendered. Dr. Henry A. Foster made the Club acquainted with the authors and titles of seven new books and several pamphlets furnished by the Carnegie Endowment Fund for International Peace. These books may be found in the library and used by anyone interested, but they are the property of the International Relations Club. They all deal with facts that are pertinent today in the realm of international politics.

Girls Will Be Escorts at Varsity Villagers Dance

Calling all men! Have you always wanted to be the privileged chaperone on a date? Now is your chance. On February twenty-eight, Leap Day, the Varsity Villagers are giving a box-supper dance in the Student Center. On this night the girls will act as the "gentlemen." They will make the date, give the corsage, open the doors, and furnish the transportation. It will not be like most box suppers, because no one will buy the boxes.

Arrangements are being made to give everyone an enjoyable evening. "So you men just hope that you will receive an invitation," says one who knows. "You can be assured that you will have a grand time if you accept."

Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Kleinpell and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Main have been invited as chaperones. The honorary guests will be Miss Marian B. Lippitt and Miss Dorothy Truex and guests. It is to be strictly informal. Fun is the pass word. Tickets will be on sale as soon as possible.

The Varsity Villagers Council sincerely hopes that every member of the organization will take advantage of this excellent opportunity to give herself and friend an evening of pleasure.

Dodley Weems, a member of the acting class, directed the one-act play, "Our Aunt from California", that was presented Thursday, February 6, before the members of the Twentieth Century Club in Maryville.

This play is composed of an all-girl cast. It is a comedy dealing with the antics of three sisters in trying to win the approval of a wealthy aunt who is to select one to take with her to Europe. Sally (Peggy Cunningham), the younger sister, decides that her Aunt is not going to pay her expected visit and she decides to dress and act as she believes her Aunt Merry (Frances Wilson) would do. For a time she keeps her two sisters (Helen Johnson and Molly Kemper) guessing until a dressmaker (Ruth Crownover), her Aunt Merry, and her mother (Dodley Weems) arrive on the scene. It is easy enough to guess that Sally wins the trip.

Fifty Dollars for Each Picture Offered by Look

Fifty dollars for each photograph in a series of ten will be paid by Look Magazine to the winner of its $1000 picture-story contest. That totals $500, which is the first prize in the contest Look Magazine is sponsoring, and, incidentally it is more than top rates for photographs. The price Look is paying for the winning picture series, by the standard of rates paid for individual photographs, is just five times as much as most American picture magazines pay for their material.

Camera-minded college students wishing to cash in on their talent in photography should enter this contest, for contestants are limited to registered students in the junior colleges, colleges, and universities in the United States, its possessions, and Canada. Any student in these institutions may enter. The only exception to this rule is that the student must not be a Look employee, or be a relative of any Look employee.

Any and all types of material may be used in the picture-story series. Sports, studies, research, recreation—all have picture possibilities, and Look is ready to consider them all. Entrants should submit not less than ten photographs, and no more than fifty, with an explanatory story two thousand words or less in length.

The contest closes April 15, 1941. Inquiries concerning the contest may be addressed to Look's College Picture Editor, Look Magazine, 511 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

Mules Will Try to Avenge Last Week's Defeat Tonight

Bearcat Victory Will Give Strong Chance for MIAA Championship.

Loss of Game Tonight Means Second Place

The Bearcats will start the second half of their MIAA schedule this week-end when the Warrensburg Mules come here to try to avenge a defeat from Maryville on the former's court last Friday night. Springfield has proved that the Bearcats are not unconquerable, and, taking heart at this, Warrensburg will attempt to bring Maryville down from the top of the conference ladder and raise its own ranking at the same time.

A victory for Maryville would give the Bearcats a stronger grip on the lead and leave only Cape Girardeau, Springfield, and Kirksville to stand in the way of MIAA championship, since it does not seem that Rolla is going to be a threat to any of the teams in the last part of the season. A defeat for the Bearcats would throw them into a second place tie with Warrensburg and give Kirksville the lead.

When the Mules were hosts to the Bearcats last week the guest team was on its toes and defeated them 33-19. In spite of the 6 feet 4 inches average height of Coach Tom Scott's team, they were unable to monopolize the ball enough of the time to keep Maryville from running up safe margin in the score.

A good defense, set up by Bearcat men, accounted for the fact that Helms, 6 feet 5 inches, went scoreless in the game when he usually tops the scoring column for the Mules. Should the defense "click" tonight, they will be in a position to win if they can hit the bucket for some points for themselves.

Starting line-ups of the two teams will probably be as follows: Maryville—Hull, Salmon, Hutcheson, D. Johnson, and Walker; Warrensburg—Gibbs, Helms, Martin, Richardson, and Johns.

Dean Walker

Walker came here from Jackson, Missouri, where he attended high school and lettered in basketball two years. His team won the regional tournament of that district of the state in 1936 and 1937 and entered the state tournament both years. He has lettered here three years and plays guard for the Bearcats. He is 6 feet 4 inches tall and weighs 180 pounds.

W. A. A. Board Impose Fine for Back Dues

The W. A. A. board held its regular meeting Tuesday, February 4, at 5 o'clock at the gymnasium. At that time it was decided to assess a fine of 10 cents on all members who have not paid their fall quarter dues, which must be paid by February 11. Plans are under way for the W. A. A. exhibition basketball game which will be played February 27 in the College gym. The game will be between the two winning teams in the class basketball tournament.

Bearcats Wallop Warrensburg by 14 Point Margin

Maryville Retains Lead in Conference While Mules Drop to Third.

According to last week's "Warrensburg Student," the Bearcats were in for a hard game when they invaded the Mules' camp last Friday night, but after the first fifteen minutes of the game Maryville took an easy lead to win 33 to 19.

The Bearcats took advantage of their freethrow attempts to build up a good lead. They missed only one of fourteen tries while the Mules converted five.

Scoring was slow in the first fifteen minutes of the game with the score standing 5 to 8 in Maryville's favor at the end of that time. Then the Bearcats hit a scoring spree and ended the half in their spare 14 to 5. Helms, usually a high scoring man for Warrensburg, fouled out soon after the half without a point to his credit. The Bearcats proceeded to build up a 17 point lead while Warrensburg substituted a number of men in an attempt to stop them. During the closing minutes of the game Coach Stalcup sent in his reserves so that the entire traveling squad of 17 men were in the game at some time or other.

Hutcheson scored 11 points to be high man for Maryville while Martin used his 6 feet 8 inches of height to an advantage in scoring 8 points for the Mules. D. Johnson, Hull and Walker were the only other ones to score from the field for Maryville. Walker also counted up 6 points at the freethrow line.

A large number of Warrensburg citizens augmented by a group of Maryville backers filled the Morrow gymnasium for the record crowd of the season. The defeat sets Warrensburg back to third place in the conference.

Springfield Downs Bearcats Saturday

Field Goal in Last Fifteen Seconds Gives Bears 27 to 25 Victory.

A field goal in the last fifteen seconds of the game gave Springfield a 2 point margin to win over Maryville, 27 to 25, last Saturday night on the Bears' court. The loss, the first for the Bearcats in conference competition since the latter part of the 1939 season, does not take the leadership of the MIAA out of Maryville's hands but it gives Kirksville a much better chance to pull up into a tie with them.

The Springfield News stated that the game was rough and that the Bearcats were tough, but a survey of the box score shows that 17 fouls were called on Maryville while only 7 were called on the host team, which was rather an unbalanced number for a "rough" game.

Springfield scored only 8 field goals to Maryville's 12 but converted 50 per cent of 22 freethrow attempts while Maryville rang up only 1 of 6 attempts.

With only five minutes of playing time left in the game, Hutcheson hit a bucket that tied the score up 19-all. Crawford, a forward for the Bears, scored 5 points in the next two minutes but Maryville brought the score up to 25-all with 30 seconds to go. Crawford again came through for his team by taking a rebound from Maryville's backboard, dribbling half the length of the court and dropped one in to give Springfield the lead. Maryville did not have time to try to even the score again.

Harold Hull was high point man for the Bearcats with 10 points and Crawford was high for the Bears with 8 points. It was Maryville's first defeat since the season opener with Drake University.

The box score:

Springfield (27)	Maryville (25)
Kaminsky, f. 1 1 2	D. Johnson, f. 2 0 3
Crawford, f. 3 2 1	Schottel, f. 0 0 0
Lore, f. 0 0 0	Hutcheson, f. 5 0 3
Hull, c. 0 4 0	Hutcheson, c. 3 0 4

Stewart, g. 1 0 1	K. Johnson, g. 1 0 3
Hicks, g. 0 0 0	Hicks, g. 0 0 0
Totals..... 8 11 7	Totals..... 12 11 7

Halftime score: Springfield 9, Maryville 7. Free throw missed: Springfield 11, Maryville 5. Officials: Eddie Hague, and Louis House, Kansas City.

Collegiate Digest Wants College Action Pictures

Mr. E. A. Davis, Director of Athletics, received a letter from the Collegiate Digest calling attention to the fact that no pictures of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College had appeared in the Digest this year.

The Collegiate Digest does not have its own photographers and must depend entirely upon free-lance material.

Roto reproduction requires glossy prints and action photos are preferred to the usual type of posed shot.

The letter states that several students from this school have written to ask why they never see pictures of this campus. The Digest will appreciate any pictures that are sent. The paper is made up three weeks in advance and so pictures should be sent in accordingly.
